

Wilma

Wilma is a 4 year old Tri color Bassett Hound that lives with Dale and Ann DeBlaey as well as two other dogs and a cat whom she gets along well with. Wilma likes to sleep under the covers on the bed or on the sofa. She enjoys playing with her Kong® squeaky ball but also will play with the other dogs. Elsa, her house mate, is smaller than her and Wilma will manage to get three of the Elsa's smaller balls in her mouth at once. Wilma's goal is to destroy the Kong® balls. She loves to eat Milk Bones and she even knows where they are in the cupboards. She has figured out how to open the cupboard doors so now Dale and Ann have to keep a cover on the treat jars because she will help herself. She has also been caught eating potato chips because she got the bag stuck on her head.

Wilma loves to compete in the "Bassett 500" where she will run into the kitchen and around the table. She enjoys playing outside and going camping. When she is playing outside she will chase Elsa around the garden and will roll her over. Dale and Ann have 7 chickens and the dogs all like to put their noses in by the chickens. The chickens will then bite the dogs. Wilma thinks that she is a lap dog even though she is 50 pounds.
